Doing the RIGHT Thing

Northeast High School, unlike any other. A place where pride and tradition go hand in hand.

From academics to athletics we know who's #1--- with a student body that is striving only for excellence a new administration who guides us to our very best and a faculty that settles for nothing less. Not to mention our numerous local, state, and national achievements, Northeast has it all, the best band and extra-curricular activities just to name a few.

Yes, we're doing it our way and there's no stopping us now. With the new math/science high-technology program scheduled for Northeast, everyone else will be saying what we already know. Yes, we are DOING THE RIGHT THING!

Daphne Glasco, Yolanda Brown and Katina Fraley are getting the hang of working with computers in Mrs. Kathy Wheeler's 2nd period Intro/Computers class.

Chauncey Hunt stops Mr. Reese Morrison for a brief second to ask his opinion about the paper he has to turn in.

Charlotte Williams tries hard to keep up with Mr. Wright as he gives his 3rd per. English 12(H) lecture notes.

Dr. Brenda Davis explains to Tracy Green how to place her fingers on the home key in her Pre-Tech class.

Student Life

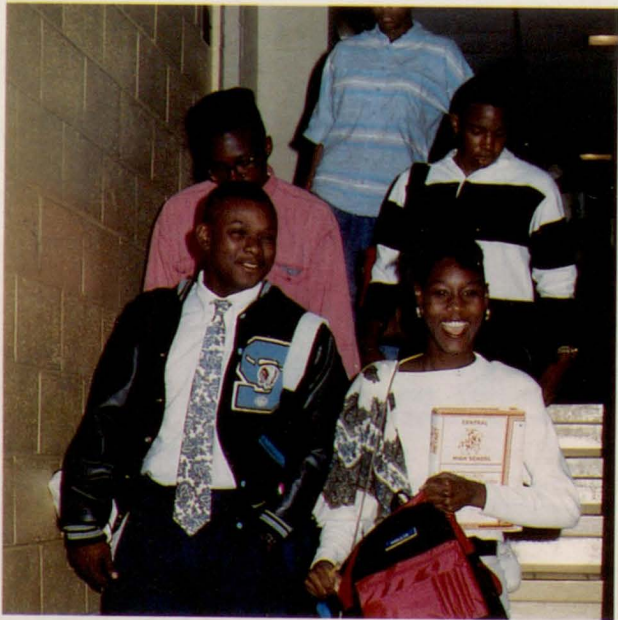

High school---the teenage years. That time most young people look forward to---being best friends with not just girls or boys, but both girls and boys as well. Having your very own locker, the Junior/Senior Prom, the Military Ball and your first date.

Hanging out at the mall on Saturdays and the Pizza Hut after the football games. Being able to call yourself a Raider and wear that jersey with pride.

High school years---so said to be the best. Always being able to look at that high school yearbook and say, "I remember when...."

Hanging Out

Northeast's campus is spacious and gives students an environment in which they can and are able to relax. Before and after school you can find many students in the student parking lot. During lunch break most of the students can be found in the lunch rooms or outside in front of the Vocational Building.

First quarter lunch break gives students the opportunity to enjoy a summer and fall atmosphere. Some students use the time to be with friends, catch up on class work or just relax and prepare for the last classes of the day. The Winter quarter usually draws everyone to the inside and many people can be found in the Mark Smith and Lasseter main hallways or in the Media Center. Spring quarter brings students back outside with beautiful scenes of blossoming trees, flowers and grass. They then began to re-take their hangout places in front of the building, getting together with friends.

Hanging out at Northeast is enjoyable because it is left up to the students as to how they spend their free time.

Fashions coming in or going out, Northeast Students

Wear The Right Thing

If there's one theme for the fashions of '89-'90, it's that there is no single theme. Esprit, Ultra Pink, Guess and Bugle Boys are just a few of the designers who keep fashion exciting. Fashion's important styles and colors come from many different directions.

Last year vests turned up sparingly as the hot thrift shop find. This year you'll be seeing them just about everywhere in many different fabrics and patterns to match split skirts and the wide leg pants.

Then of course, there is the happy face! This trend started in the 50's and as with any fashion grew old with time.

Students at Northeast share different opinions about fashion. Junior, Tammy McCoy said, "You can tell what type of attitude someone has by what they are wearing." Rod Grandison, a senior added, "When someone looks at you they look at your clothes and that makes a good first impression."

Overall, fashions are a part of life and at Northeast, students will always be wearing the "Right Thing."

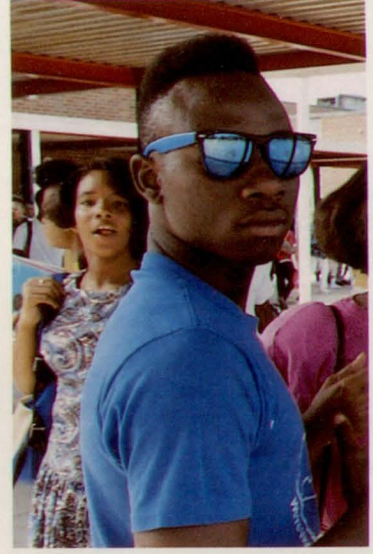

Northeast students make their own fashion statements.

There are many styles and versions of today's hairstyles. To name a few: Batman, The Fade and Stars and Stripes. Cleophus Warren shows off his version of a 1989 hair style.

These young men make their own fashion statements. Norman Wright sports a tailored suit and string tie while Harrison Flagg relaxes in a very casual out fit and tennis shoes.

The fashion statement of '89, The Vest. Sam Hart shows off his paisley designed vest as Greta Brantley watches on in her leopard design.

Sun shades are the in thing around campus. Willie Green shows off a kind that is popular with many students.

Cynthia Dawn and Michell Holden sport matching vests while Erica Anderson shows off the same version in a different color.

Getting around is A Matter of Wheels

The cheesehound, a Volkswagen bug, a BMW, a Mercedes, even Suzuki 'Samari are some of the varied forms of transportation used by Northeast students.

The majority of Northeast students use the Bibb County school buses as their major source of transportation to and from school. However, many students opt to use personal modes--- "their own wheels".

One glance across the student parking lot reveals personal modes of transportation ranging from souped up bugs to Mercedes Benz.

Senior Tanya Goolsby who drives a Mercedes Benz comments, "Driving to school is much easier because you don't have to get up as early or stand out in the weather waiting for a bus."

Many Northeast students prefer their own wheels.

The yellow bus is the major source of transportation for most Northeast students.

The VW "Bug" is a popular means of transportation for students.

The Right Spirit

School spirit—it's a feeling that comes from within. "Raider" students show their spirit in many ways at Northeast High School. The faculty and student body all wear their Raider tee-shirts on Fridays with pride. The slogan on the tee-shirts is "Doing the Right Thing".

The band, the football team, the cheerleaders, everyone—they all have that spirit. The right spirit. "Raider Spirit".

Do you know the Northeast Alma Mater? If you don't, join in on school spirit and learn it!

HOMECOMING '89

As we prepared for another successful homecoming week, spirit was in the air. Northeast began the exciting week with special days to put you in the spirit. Monday was College Day/Sports Day. Tuesday was Halloween/Toga Day. Wednesday was Dress Up/Career/Twin Day. Thursday was Nerd/Kiddie Day. Friday was the day of the pep rally and game.

The battle of the classes had a new event this year. For the first time the hall contest put all the classes at a bitter but enthusiastic finish.

The sophomores came out on top followed by the juniors in second, seniors in third and the freshmen in last place.

The traditional spirit chain race sponsored by DECA, again put the classes in another hot race.

Early in the week the freshman and the seniors were leading the way followed by the sophomores and juniors. But the official announcement of the spirit chain winner revealed the juniors to be #1. The seniors were second followed by the sophomores in third and the freshmen in last place.

The homecoming week ended with the Northeast Raiders playing a tough game against the Northside Eagles.

Friday, October the 13th will always be- A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

Anxious tension and excitement arose as the candidates awaited the buzzer sound for the second quarter to end and the NIGHT TO REMEMBER to begin.

Finally it was time for the sabre arch to approach the field. The band was playing softly. 15 nervous candidates were all standing there in a line waiting to hear their names over the intercom.

Van Woodley and Tonette Robinson were crowned Mr. and Miss Northeast. Van said "I felt as if I had accomplished one of my main goals as a high school student, to become a well known figure at Northeast in a positive manner. I was really proud of myself."

LuWanna Glover, Danielle Hill, and Larry Kellam were named first and second runner-ups.

WyKesia Adside was named Miss Junior. Tammy McCoy and Jada Wright were first and second runner-ups.

Zandra Taylor was named Miss Sophomore.

Adina Garrett was named Miss Freshman. Alicia Wilson and Luciana Green were first and second runner-ups.

After it was all over many were happy, although many were sad. But the NIGHT TO REMEMBER was over at last.

Escorts not in competition were Micheal Copeland, Eric Lindsey, Torri Wilson, Alan Walker, Quin Roberson, Paul Findley, Shawn Denmark, Terrance Harrell, Nathan Lewis, Eltred Bond, and Sam Hart.

Zandra Taylor, a member of the marching band, was named Miss Sophomore.

Adina Garrett, named Miss Freshman, is also a member of the Student Council.

DIPLOMATS

A Positive Attitude

New, sophisticated and prestigious are a few adjectives that describe the newly formed club composed of sixteen members called the Diplomats. This club was organized to demonstrate a positive attitude towards Northeast. The Diplomats have served as hosts for the PTSO. They are cosponsored by Mrs. Joyce Robinson and Mr. Thurnell Johnson.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is the backbone of the school because of their function as a governing body. They set the tone for the school by planning the special events that make each year memorable.

This year the Student Council provided decorations and flowers for Homecoming, collected donations for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and sponsored a canned food drive at Thanksgiving. Student Council advisors were Mrs. Claudia Hutchings and Ms. Nova Bruss.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Head of the Class

There is a certain amount of prestige to be gained by being a member of the National Honor Society. An invitation to join means that a special academic standard has been met. Seniors must maintain a 3.8 GPA; juniors, a 3.9 GPA; sophomores, a 4.0 GPA.

Besides recognizing academic excellence, this organization is also committed to providing services to their school and community. The members supervise the school Honor Roll for the principal. The National Honor Society is advised by Mrs. Jeanetta Echols and Mrs. LaMerle Loveland.

MU ALPHA THETA

It All Adds Up

When you combine mathematical ability with determination you get a trip to Niagara Falls! This is the goal of Mu Alpha Theta, an organization that recognizes academic achievement in mathematics. The members of this group have been working hard to earn money for the trip.

Mu Alpha Theta members are in college prep math courses and are expected to maintain a B average or higher in these courses. Advised by Mrs. Kathleen Wheeler, this group sponsors the Math Olympics, a challenging event held each year during the Spring Quarter. Add all this together and you get a hard-working group of students who deserve a great trip!

MATH TEAM

Scores High In County

An interest and a talent in mathematics is all that is required to become a member of the Math Team. The Math Team participated in the Bibb County Math Meets on November 8, and the team came in second place in the county. A sophomore, Eric Lindsey, won a 3rd place individual trophy. The team is looking forward to other meets in February with the hopes of coming in first place. The Math Team is advised by Mrs. Kathleen Wheeler.

MATH CLUB

Finding Solutions

The students who are capable of finding solutions to difficult mathematical equations may be interested in joining the Math Club. The only membership requirement is to have a special interest in mathematics.

This year the Math Club participated in the Teacher Appreciation gifts, Math Olympics, and Honor Roll Badges. They also had several money making projects that helped provide funds for students to go on a trip to Canada with the Science Club. The advisor is Mrs. Kathleen Wheeler, the computer specialist in the Lassetter building.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

The Best of the Arts

The Salmagundi is a publication which highlights the best poetry, prose, and artwork produced by students. This years theme, colors, writers and artist combined to provide us with a fresh look at our literary talents. Advised by Mrs. Shirley Macklin, the students study creative writing, editing and layouts.

If you have journalistic or creative writing ability, the Literary Team is the organization for you. This year, the Literary Team participated in several contests such as the Optimist Club Essay Contest, the Georgia Alliance for Public Education Writing Contest, and the Macon College Arts Festival and Poetry Contest.

To be a member of the Literary Team, students must be recommended by an English teacher and meet the eligibility requirements for high school students. Co-advisors for the Literary Team are Mrs. Sydney Chalfa and Mrs. Shirley Macklin.

A Year of Changes and Challenges

The Northeast Valhalla Staff had many changes this year, including new advisors and staff. The two new advisors were Mrs. Judy Flutz and Ms. Kathi Tyson. Each advisor used her personal experience and teaching techniques to approach the challenges of yearbook production.

A major change was dividing the large staff into two different groups, the business staff and the production staff. The business staff dealt with the money aspects of the book such as selling ads and selling the book to the students, and with doing layouts of the ads. The production staff dealt mostly with writing stories, setting up and taking pictures, and page design layout.

"It has been fun but it takes determination and patience to succeed and that's what we tried to do," said Adrian Hill. The combined efforts of these groups showed the needed determination to produce a quality yearbook.

The business staff got an opportunity to learn layout and design also. They did the production work for both the ad section and organizations.

NEWSPAPER

Freedom Of Speech

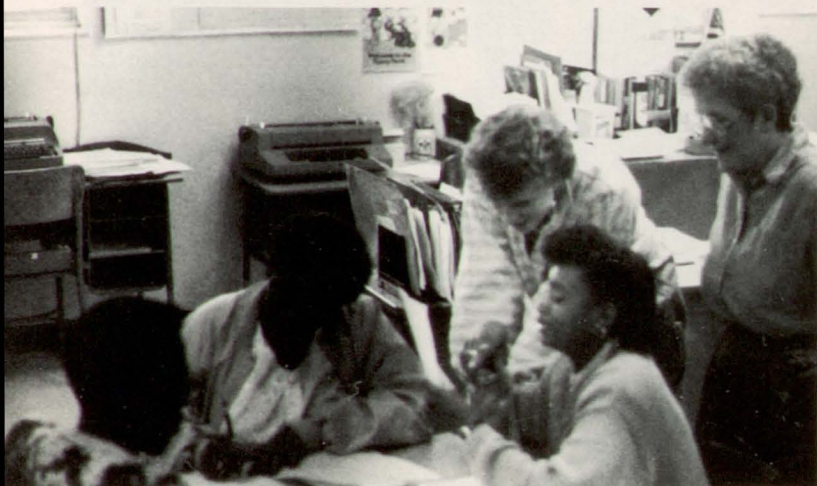

The Golden Star is a forum for student expression and a record of school history for the year. According to Mrs. Carole Ford, advisor of the newspaper staff, "Keeping track of all the activities and sports of a school this size is difficult." Mrs. Ford has managed to do both the yearbook and newspaper in years past, so she has a great deal of experience in publications to share with her students.

QUILL & SCROLL

Pen In Hand

The Quill and Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalists is an organization whose function is to encourage excellence in journalism. Membership requirements are a 3.0 overall average or all A's and B's in some phase of journalism or English. Quill and Scroll makes and distributes badges for A's in journalism for the English Honor Roll. They also sponsor and participate in literary contests. Quill and Scroll is advised by Mrs. Shirley Macklin, Mrs. Carole Ford, Mrs. Judy Fultz, and Ms. Kathi Tyson.

DEBATE TEAM

Face to Face

The Debate Team is a new organization that has evolved at Northeast under the advisory of Mrs. Linda Grynkewich. The purpose of this team is for students to achieve an awareness of the issues facing our society and our world and to sharpen their ability in communications. You must meet the following membership requirements in order to be a part of their team: state eligibility requirements (no F's in any subject), be a good representative for Northeast, and be seriously interested in debate.

ACADEMIC BOWL

Quizzed To The Max

The function of the Academic Bowl Club is to promote interest in academics through competition. These members compete in county meets that include the Middle Georgia Academic Quiz Bowl and the Georgia Southwestern Academic Quiz Bowl. One club member will be selected as a member of the All-County Quiz Bowl Team held in April. This club offers an excellent opportunity to use and extend your classroom knowledge. The advisors for the Academic Bowl Club are Mrs. Nova Bruss and Mrs. Jeanetta Echols.

SPIRIT CLUB

Tops At Banners

Spirit Club is considered a service organization dedicated to working for the school. Members of Spirit Club are expected to conduct themselves as good representatives of their school at all times. This club was organized to provide support for all athletic and academic teams.

This year, Spirit Club members have painted some very creative banners for the football and basketball teams. They have encouraged attendance at all athletic events, and they designed and sold the "Doing the Right Thing" t-shirts to promote school spirit.

Meet The Challenge

The Northeast JROTC is bigger and better than it has ever been because of "The Challenge". The professed challenge is an idea with the purpose of building up confidence within. This challenge is composed of a confidence course and the development of leadership skills. Each student in JROTC is required to try this course which has two new exercises, the wall climb and the three-quarter mile track. The wall climb involves climbing two inch blocks up the side of the Mark Smith gym. Running the three-quarter mile track must be completed once every two weeks. JROTC is not for everyone. It takes a special kind of person to meet and conquer "The Challenge".

JROTC

This year's 1989-90 Battalion Commander is Nickey Zellner. Nickey was selected as Battalion Commander by a board of officers from the previous year. In late September, Nickey was installed into office by receiving the Rodney M. Davis Sabre of Honor and being honored with a parade of his battalion. "I felt very honored to receive the Sabre of Honor because it means I'm worthy enough to carry on the tradition of excellence like the other Battalion Commanders before me," said Nickey.

Being Battalion Commander is not an easy job. Nickey is in charge of supervising four company commanders and preparing the battalion for their annual federal inspection. "The pressure is tremendous but I can handle it," explained Nickey. "Things don't always go as planned but if you keep reaching for your goals you will accomplish them. Don't let others drag you down by their bad influence. It's a long road to success with many obstacles in the way. Just take them one at a time and anything can be achieved."

Volunteers from the JROTC took a ten day Wilderness Trip which consisted of seven days in the Georgia mountains and three days of canoeing on the Chattahoochee. The group climbed Blood Mountain, the highest mountain on the Appalachian Trail in Georgia. Besides learning to cope with the elements, each cadet was responsible for his food preparation and shelter.

This trip emphasized the importance of teamwork. If one group did not function, the other groups suffered. The group decided what was best for the group, and counseled members that were not doing their part. Everyone considered the trip to be a valuable experience, but they expressed an appreciation for modern conveniences when they returned home.

Preparing For The Future

Vocational Clubs of America (VOCA) is a youth organization which allows students to use their job-seeking skills to compete with other students in the state. VOCA students were trained in the CVAE classes taught by Mrs. Gwendolyn Crafter.

Coordinated Vocational Academic Education is a support program designed to provide students with a vocational path to follow, and any services or assistance that are needed for them to be successful. CVAE/Project Success was using vocational and academic instruction to teach or remediate basic skills through the CVAE program.

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is a national group organized to generate enthusiasm, stimulate pride and improve school-business relations. The members attended professional meetings that were designed to provide valuable career goals and increase the members knowledge of office occupations.

FHA

Future Homemakers of America (FHA) places major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking, and family-life education. The club was designed to provide opportunities for self-development, to promote a greater understanding between youths and adults, and to develop an interest in home economic careers and related occupations.

During the fall, members of FHA attended the district meeting to determine their projects for the year. FHA members are students in the home economics classes of Mrs. Bernice Williams.

Gettin' the Job Done

One member of the Northeast Raider Band described this group as "another cheerleading squad". The band is dedicated to showing their school support through their performing talents. Members must be willing to dedicate a lot of time for practice.

A major responsibility of the Raider Band is to prepare an entertaining show for their part of halftime during football season. Southwest is considered to be their biggest competition. According to sophomore Zandra Taylor, "We beat Southwest at dancing this year!"

Every year, the band takes part in the St. Patrick's Day Parade held in Savannah, and they usually return with a trophy for "Best Band". The band also performed at the Fort Valley and Morris Brown Homecoming games.

Academics

The 90's will bring about new and challenging heights for everyone. To meet these challenges students must more than ever before apply themselves and get the job done.

This year our school has taken on a new administration and a new attitude, "DO THE RIGHT THING." Our growing and vast society requires this of us all, at home, on the job, and in the classroom.

Instill a dream of excellence and pride in yourself with the belief that I want, I can, and I will.

SRCS Creates

Classrooms of the Future

No more pen, pencil, or chalkboard for students in Mr. William Parry's science classes as the Student Response Computer System, or SRCS as it is otherwise known as, brings a new way of learning and creates the classroom of the future.

Designed, built and installed by William Parry Jr., son of science teacher William Parry, as his science project at Georgia School of Technology, SRCS has made traditional learning tools obsolete.

"The program keeps the students active. Sleeping in class is a thing of the past. The system puts a statement on the screen followed by a series of questions which allows the student several seconds to answer. No pen or pencil is needed—it's only the student and the control stick," said the elder Parry.

The students have responded with enthusiasm to the program

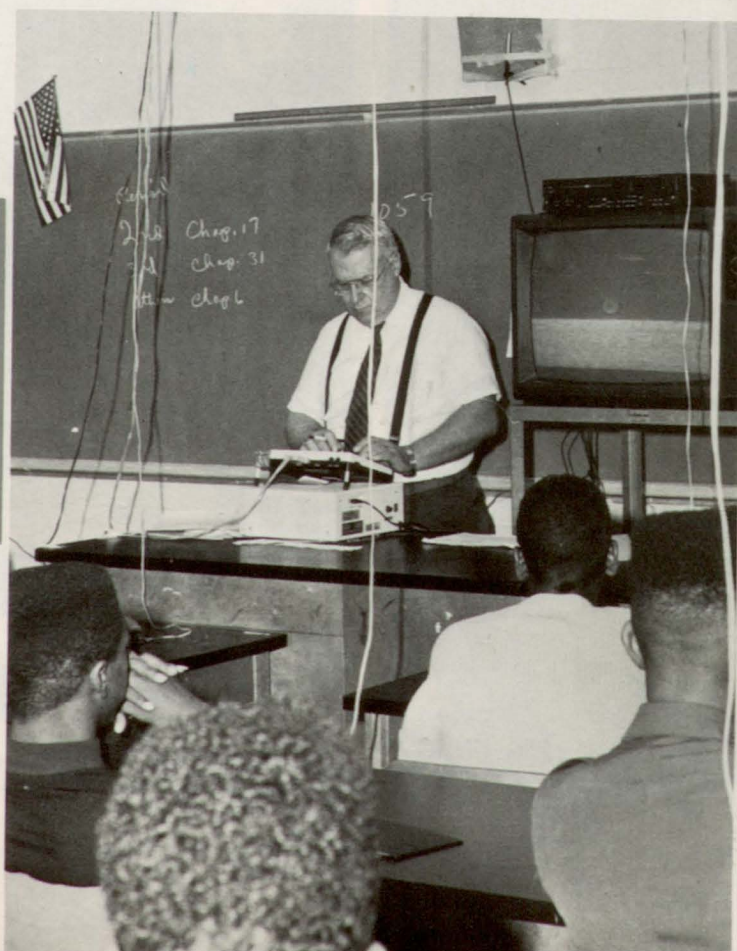

"At first I was afraid, but now I'm very excited," said freshmen Terrence Ellis. "(SRCS) makes learning interesting and I'm motivated to learn. Its a quick way to learn."

"The system can list announcements and play tapes too. Northeast is the only high school in Georgia with such a system," said Parry. "I feel that the program has been a great step in technology."

"It has expanded my learning skills and made me learn things at a faster pace. Information appears in a matter of seconds," freshmen Erica Hill said. "He doesn't really teach the class, the computer does," said Chaquita Martin. "It doesn't meet the needs of every student. The computer doesn't and cannot understand a student's inner emotion and whether or not the student is having problems."

"The system is good if it is used occasionally, but it has taken over the class and become the teacher," added freshman La Shonda Pless.

Students work along with the computer in Mr. Parry's class.

Lasalvordore Ashley works on the computer in Pre-Tech.

Special People

Foreign students fit in

The Foreign Exchange Program allows students of foreign countries to live and study in other countries.

Northeast has three foreign students; Sandra Palacois from Ecuador, Woryloa Toewah from Liberia, and Kit Wai Cheung from Hong Kong.

Sandra Palacois from Ecuador came to America in 1989. She is 17 years old and in the 10th grade. Her favorite subject is French. Sandra compares the educational system in America with that of Ecuador. "Things are different here. In Ecuador, the students and teachers wear uniforms; no transportation to school, no free lunch program and students must buy books and school supplies," added Sandra. "We have to take a big test before going to high school," said Sandra.

Woryloa Taewah, a student from Liberia tells about education in Liberia. "It is much like the educational system here. Grades range from K-12 and the hours are 7 to 2. Unlike America, Liberia provides no transportation for school and students must buy their books. Students remain in the same class all day while the teachers change classes. My father took me to school every day," said Woryola.

Kit Wai Cheung is an exchange student from Hong Kong. Kit replied, "I like Northeast and all of my teachers. My favorite teachers are Mrs Loveland and Coach Danielly." Kit's hobbies are stamp collecting and going to the movies. Her favorite sports are swimming and tennis. Kit will graduate from Northeast in June. After graduation, she will return to Hong Kong.

Sandra Palacois, a foreign student from Ecuador checks her work for mistakes.

Special Courses

Students prepare for college.

Advanced Placement courses are designed for college bound students. These courses if successfully mastered allow students the advantage of being exempted from one to two quarters of freshman classes.

Northeast offers three Advanced Placement classes: English, History, and Biology.

Advanced Placement English is taught by Mrs. LeMerle Loveland. In order to take these courses, students must have a B or better average in Honors English classes and be recommended by their present English teacher. Students must do a lot of reading and complete several projects related to the course. "It is a fun class to teach, I enjoy it. The students complain but they enjoy it. They see the value," added Mrs. Loveland.

Advanced Placement History is taught by Ms. Nova Bruss. The requirements for this course are teacher recommendation and a B or better grade point average in Honors Social Studies class. "The program is very successful for preparation for research and college," stated Ms. Bruss.

Advanced Placement Biology is taught by Mrs. Linda Grynkeiwich. Requirements for this course are Honors Chemistry and Biology and a "real interest in science," added Mrs. Grynkeiwich.

Students in Mrs. Nova Bruss' AP history class look on attentively as she teaches.

Mrs. Grynkeiwich teaches her AP class and also learns a little from them.

SPORTS

It was another year of ups and downs in the fall and winter sports. Norhteast athletes demonstrated hard team work and fair play while entertaining their fans. It does not matter who wins the game, but how the game is played. Being the best that the team could be was the unofficial motto for the year.

The most successful teams on campus were the varsity girls basketball team, the varsity girls' cross country team and the wrestling team.

When it comes to sports, win or lose, the Raiders always Do The Right Thing.

Raideretts Return To State

The girl's team, led by sophomore sensation Latissimus Jackson, had another good year with a 7-3 record.

Jackson, who started running after taking advice from a physical education instructor 3-years ago at Appling, has made Northeast's competitors sorry for the suggestion.

Northeast athletic director and cross country coach Alvin Copeland sees a lot of potential and competitiveness in Jackson.

"She has done really well," Copeland said. "She's a real competitor, she hates to lose."

Jackson, who lead the Northeast girl's cross country program, hopes to one day run in the olympics.

Meanwhile the boys cross country team managed a record of 4-6. However, they did see some high points during the season.

Of the 6 losses, 4 of them came at the hands of arch-rivals, Central and Southwest.

Members of the girls cross team await the start of the next event.

Latissimus Jackson, Stacy Virgil and Yolanda Chester await the start of the race.

SOFTBALL

Show A Lot Of Effort

The Raiderettes may have been 4-9 this season but they still showed a lot of effort.

Head coach Judy Whitaker says "The team got off to a bad start but when the times got tough they never quit, they kept on struggling."

Youth and inexperience hampered the team's overall performance, but individual efforts provided a bright spot in each game.

Sophomore Natasha Woodford was named most valuable player with a .318 batting average. Her experience and defensive efforts in the field were valuable.

The best offensive player was Maurice Redding leading in batting a perfect .333 average. Shortstop Natasha Woodford was named best defensive player.

FOOTBALL

An Opening Win, A Losing Season

An opening win on the road against the defending team Therrell of Atlanta, 19-6, got the varsity football team off to a good start. The morale of the team was high and the coach and players were looking forward to a good season.

However, things didn't turn out as planned. With losses to Central, Baldwin, Warner Robins, Southwest, Northside, Southeast, Evans, and Bulter, the morale of the team was at its lowest.

Just as the fans thought all was lost, the team bounced back to defeat Hephzibah 13-6. What a boost for the team and the fans. The Raiders ended the season with a 2-8 record. Coach Dean Brown said "Even though our football team didn't have that much faith in the upcoming season, they still played hard."

Roderick Harris was named Outstanding Defensive Back; Anthony Guy, Outstanding Defensive Back; Vernon "Rico" Council, Outstanding Offensive Back and Most Valuable Player; Derrick Griswold, Most Outstanding Offensive Lineman; Most Improved Lineman, Maurice Durham; Most Cooperative Player, Andre Davis; Coaches Trophy, Jonathan Aaron; Senior with highest G.P.A. on the team, Derrick Griswold 3.44 GPA; and Most Versatile Lineman, Reginald Summerford.

Better Two Than None

The 1989-90 season for the Raiders was not a very good season. The Raiders won two games against Mays and Northside. Although the team played hard and well, they were able to help each other through a rough season. This year's team was a young and inexperienced team.

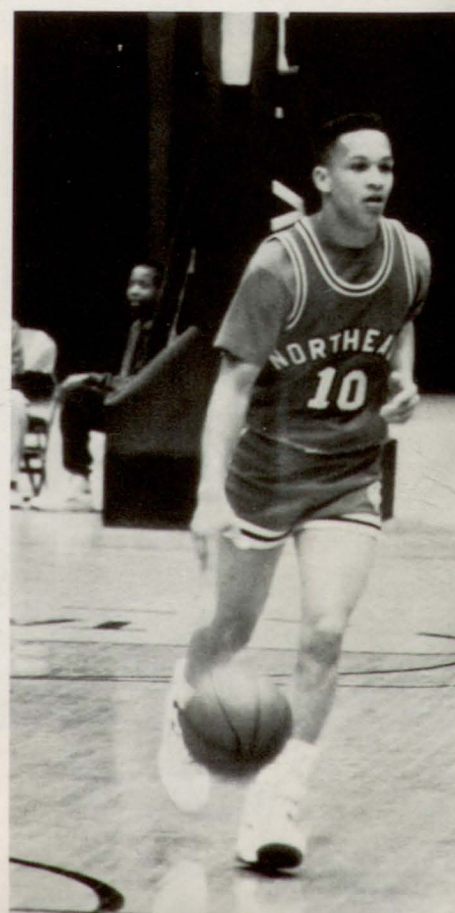

George Nanton a first year player said "We were a young team basically. We lacked experience." "We just couldn't get it together." He stated that he plans to play again next year. Ryan Gary, also a first year player said, "This year wasn't successful in wins and losses. One thing we were successful in was sportsmanship." He expressed that Coach Johnson and Coach Sarter were the best coaches. "We just didn't have experience. Next year's returning players need to step up and fill in the leading roles," added Ryan.

Copeland Reaches 400

Led by senior Yolanda Chester, the Raiderettes finished the season — with a lost to the defending state champions Baldwin.

After a rocky season start with losses to Monroe and Southeast the Raiderettes bounced back and handed Head Coach Alvin Copeland win # 400, by blasting Mays of Atlanta '76 to 26. The Raiderettes' eyes were looking to the state crown, but the rode to Atlanta was a long, hard and tough one.

The Raiderettes went on to beat Washington, Warner Robins, Therrell, Central and Southwest. The trip to the state seemed to be only one step away but that step proved to be the toughest. Southeast, a team which the Raiderettes defeated earlier in the year proved to be too much for the Raiderettes; however, after beating Central, the Lady Raiders were still in the race to Atlanta.

With Baldwin, a long time arch-rival, the only thing standing in the Raiderettes way was a win. But that win never happened after Baldwin the defending state champions prove to be too much for the Raderettes as they eliminated them from the competition.

Season Record 17-09

WRESTLING

Team Goes To State Tournament

The Northeast Wrestling Team had an outstanding year and was considered among the top teams in the state. They ended the season with a record of 28-2, placed third in the area tournament, and placed fifteenth out of eighty competing schools in the state championships.

This year was marked by the departure of senior Jimmy Bowers. Jimmy finished his high school career with a 105-8 record that included four state area championships. The spotlight will now be focused on rising champion Carlos Braswell whose season record was 21-3. Carlos placed first in the West Laurens Invitational and the Southwest Invitational.

Most of the squad members are freshmen and sophomores. All of the members are experienced wrestlers because everyone is allowed to participate whether it is a varsity or preliminary match. Coached by Fred Persley, the wrestlers have produced and maintained a winning spirit. "High morale along with individual effort contributed to the success of the team," stated Persley.

CHEERLEADERS

Win Or Lose, They Are Always There

The Cheerleaders are a group of spirited young ladies who attempt to motivate the crowd and rally team spirit at every athletic event. We should appreciate their contribution of time and effort in order to promote school spirit. Let's imagine. . . the game was tied 97-97 and the crowd was excited. There were two seconds remaining on the clock when the home team called a time-out. The tension escalated as the crowd began to scream. The cheerleaders came bouncing onto the floor to lead their fans in a show of support. "Offense, offense!" they chanted. "We've got the spirit, yea, yea. Rock, rock, rock, rock!" And with a series of cartwheels and jumps, they left the floor as the team returned. The game was whistled back into action with the home team in possession of the ball. With one second on the clock, they in-bounded the ball to their key shooter. The crowd held its breath as she threw the ball up, and they followed its movement across the court. The crowd roared as they realized that the ball was 'all net' and the home team had won the game. Would the outcome have been the same without the exuberance of the cheerleaders?

SUB-VARSITY TEAMS

Girl's team Winning season

The B-team girl's basketball team, lead by Pamela Goolsby, had a near perfect season. Coached by Walter Daniely, the team ended it's season with a 13-1-1 record.

The B-team boy's basketball, lead by Joe Thomas ended it's season with a 2-13-1 record.

The B-team football had another tough season, they ended their season with a 3-3 record.

People

Behind every great school are great people. And no where else is this more prevalent than here at Northeast.

Raiders and Raiderettes are a special breed of people. We are proud of our school and what it stands for.

Being a member of the Northeast family means belonging to what is said to be one of the greatest schools in Macon.

We are the people that were brought out of that legendary heaven of "Valhalla" oh so long ago and still prove ourselves to everyone as a bright and shining "Golden Star."

FRESHMEN

CLASS OF 1993

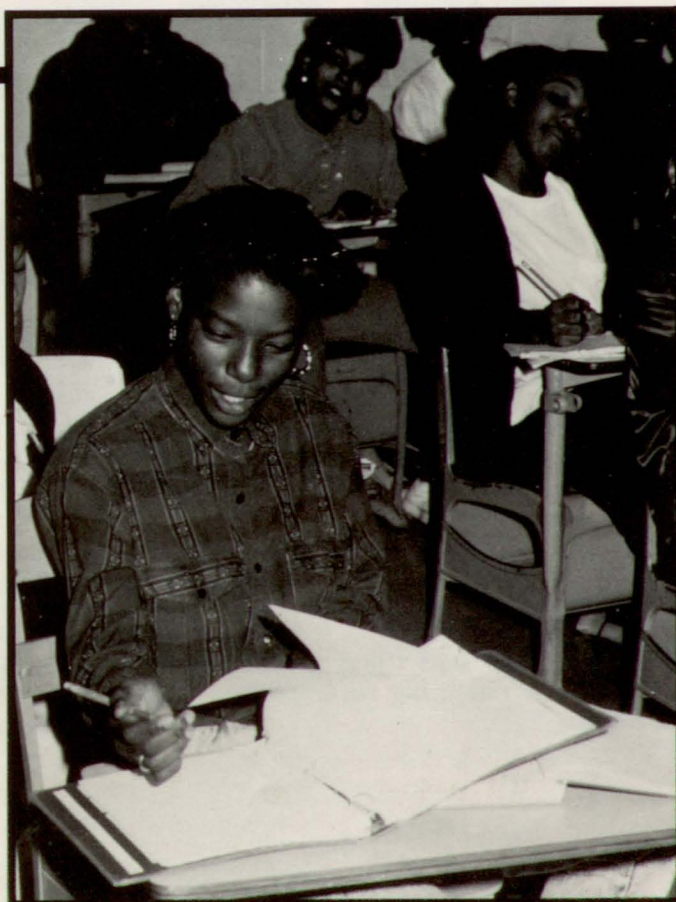

Starting it on the right foot!

Beginning the year without any leadership put the freshmen at a decided disadvantage in class competition at homecoming, but elections were held late in the school year.

For the most part, freshmen officers and representatives had their hands full just getting organized to think of themselves as a class instead of just a bunch of individuals from Appling.

Chris Colbert finds math a challenge as he works to complete Ms. Tyson's assignment.

The class is amused as Serena Butts shares her assignment with them.

Freshmen, Getting Adjusted

Being a Freshman, means you have to go through many adjustments. You have to get accustomed to new things and a new environment.

Freshman, Tiffaney Cabiness said "My biggest adjustment as being a freshman was getting from class to class on time."

Rickey Strange said "just getting around campus was a big accomplishment for me."

High school is a big step up from Middle School. There are differences and there are things you must get use to.

Charlinda Cannady said "I had to get use to my teachers and their techniques."

Shantrice Sams said "I had to get use to so much hard work."

Starting the ninth grade you are in the process for your future. There are many requirements you must meet before you graduate. So you have to know when to work and when to play.

In high school there are three more classes above the freshman class and most of the people have been here before. They may know some things that freshmen being new, would have to learn.

Being a Freshman means you're the New Kid On The Block

Being a freshman is like being "The New Kid on the block." You're not familiar with your surroundings and you make mistakes. Although we've all had our share of embarrassing moments, there are none like the one's in our freshman year.

Erica Walker's most embarrassing moment was during the Homecoming pep rally when it was announced that the freshmen had lost the Spirit Chain.

Luciana Green's most embarrassing moment was when in the assembly on the first day of school Mr. Dilliard asked the freshmen class to leave and everyone yelled out "freshmen."

There are some mistakes we've made and we hoped nobody saw us. These are the moments we would like to forget because they truly are embarrassing.

Yolanda Walker remembers on the first day of school, she went to a classroom and knocked on the door only to find that she had gone to the wrong class.

Wanike Shakespeare's most recent embarrassing moment, was described as the following "one of my classmates asked to borrow some of my lotion and when I leaned over to give it to her, I fell out of my desk."

These were definitely embarrassing moments that these freshmen will never forget.

Said 'Am I seeing double, or what?' lately?

Twins aren't copies

There are a number of twins in our school. They are seniors Chanda and Rhonda Gordon and Carlos and Charles Spry, juniors Stephanie and Steve Collins, and freshmen Mya and Myon Ward.

Chanda and Rhonda Gordon are fraternal twins. They are very popular around Northeast and many other places. "We were born on February 28, 1972," said Rhonda.

"I like having a twin because people tend to remember better if there's something different about you. Also people are always surprised when they ask us why we are dressed alike."

"We enjoy skating, going to games, talking to friends, and eating out. The thing I hate most about being twins is that people always expect us to be able to think, act, do work, and other things just alike or equally."

Charles and Carlos Spry are identical twin boys. "We enjoy being twins a lot" said Carlos. "We enjoy doing just about everything together."

Sometimes having a twin can create a lot of confusion. "Being able to play tricks on people is the best part," said Carlos.

Think you're seeing double? No! Twins Carlos and Charles Spry better known as Spry Fy one and two.

Twins, and freshmen Romas and Rhonda Dunn take a few minute of library time to pose for a picture.

Boy/girl twins Eric and Erica Hill are excited about having their picture taken.

Sophomores caught in the middle

Most sophomores feel they have higher rank over freshmen. Juniors are planning for the prom and awaiting to become seniors, and seniors are anxiously awaiting their graduation.

Sophomores are just caught in the middle. Most sophomores seem to sense the awkward nature of the year.

Jesseka Goodrum said, "It's great. At least, I'm not a freshman."

"It feels good because I'll be a rising junior," said Andrea Sanders.

Keziah Bowden said "I have a little more dignity than last year."

Warren Stubbs explains the disadvantages and advantages. "To me it feels alright to be a sophomore. It can have some advantages and disadvantages. For example, it is nice not to be known as the new kids on the block. But, one disadvantage is you have the upperclassmen picking on us. We're just stuck in the middle."

"The most talent and spirit come from the sophomore class," said Kacy Clowers.

Charmekia Pertillo said, "It feels great being a sophomore. Each year gets better and better. We have the spirit and what it takes to remain THE BEST CLASS!"

"It's great. It's the best thing that ever happened to me this year," said Shearleeta Grey.

Natalie Smith explains why sophomores should have more privileges. "Seniors should stop treating us like freshmen."

The primary responsibilities of the sophomore class leadership were to continue to form a togetherness feeling for the class of 1992.

CLASS OF 1991

Next in line

The Juniors are considered "next in line". Their main responsibility this year is getting the Junior-Senior Prom together. A lot of effort is put into this dance to say good-bye to the Seniors and to say good luck. The prom will be held on May 25 at the Macon Coliseum. The Juniors are responsible for helping to get the money together to throw this farewell party. The advisors for the prom are Mrs. Sydney Chalfa and Mrs. Irma Stevens. Everyone hopes it will turn out as good or maybe better than the ones before.

Are we there yet?

Are we there yet? Well, not quite. The juniors of 1989-90 are the seniors of tomorrow. They can almost reach out and grab the end of their high school years.

It's frustrating at times when you just want to quit, but then you realize that you're so close that you can't quit.

It's hard, but there are some good points and one is the new freedoms and sacrifices of becoming a junior.

The freedom of a car is one that is mostly in all the juniors' minds. It's a chance to show how much you've matured and how you can handle the responsibility of adulthood.

Junior Micheal Ogles said, "Having my car gives me a little more freedom and a lot more trouble."

Although this may be true, its worth it, but the car can also cause you to give up a lot and this is where the sacrifices of becoming a junior come in.

You have to get a job, to pay for the gas, to drive the car. This could occupy a few weekends, but it's all a part of growing up.

Your job can get in the way of school, the long hours, the long nights, and the headache of dragging yourself out of bed at 5:30 the next day can cause problems, but if you stick with it long enough, it'll soon be all over.

The cost of being a junior is high, but in the long run it will pay off. Junior Jerolyn Sanders says, "well, since we are juniors and we do want to go to the prom, we should be willing to pay." Although, not all juniors feel this way, it is for a good cause.

Now, don't be mislead, being a junior doesn't always have to be bad. There are a few more good points, such as, the prom, class rings, drivers licenses, and the chance to get a tiny taste of becoming a senior.

It's a good feeling to know that as soon as it's all over, you'll have your moment in the sun, you'll get to have the special days at school.

You'll get all the glory in the end of showing your parents you can do anything.

Juniors of 1989-90 have got the spirit and the pride to be true seniors, because they are achieving that goal, they are doing the right thing.

Look-alikes, Latonya and Latresia, sophomore and senior offer confuse many people.

Odds and Ends

What is a name? A lot. Basically a few people have found that out. For instance, you hear your name called, or what you thought was your name; you run to the office to find ballons waiting for you. It's not your birthday or a holiday, but they are there. You soon find out they aren't from your boyfriend and he wonders who they are from. You figure it out as soon as you read the card. They are someone elses. Oh well! Better luck next time. This incident has happened to two people. Junior Katina Mullis recalls this when Junior Katina Mullens recieved her gift. Simple mistake, but people still get confused. The names are very close, but the two people are very different. Junior Katina Mullis says "I don't mind being mixed up with her when I'm in trouble, but other than that I would like to be considered me." Junior Katina Mullens says "I don't mind, but I would like to to see it get straightened out. In a way I think it's neat.

But, still you ask, what is in a name? Well, lets take names, the same last name, but the people have no relation what so ever. Freshman Stacey Simmions said, "I would like to be related to Sammy, because I think he's a real cool guy. It's really a tripp."

Sophomore Sammy Simmons has a different opinion " No, I wouldn't want to be related to her, because we are two different people and we wouldn't look right. She's really a great person though."

Although, these two people aren't related, this doesn't mean people won't believe they aren't. Well, now maybe you can answer the question of what is in a name.

A simple answer is easy. A name identifies someone. It gives them a unique personality, but still all this confusion makes it difficult to have that "uniqueness" any more. So, someone, please try something new.

Now with all of this confusing identifying, there is a problem of facial appearances. Some people look alike. They have nothing in common, other than the faces, such as Romenski Williams and Eric Copeland. These two people look alike, but they are different. This brings us back to the names. So, I guess there is really nothing we can do about it.

But, until we get all of these odds and ends straightened out, we will have to live with it. Isn't that right Katina Mullis, or was that Mullens?

SENIORS SAY GOODBYE

As the last bell sounds and the last day of school ends, the seniors of Northeast will be singing, "Goodnight sweetheart well its time to go!!"

As June 7 approaches, seniors reminisce on "The Good Old Days." "My fondest memory," said Rochelle Brown, "was eating lunch with my friends."

"Playing varsity basketball and talking to friends on lunchbreak were my fondest memories at Northeast," said Wayne Anderson.

"My fondest memory was when our boys Varsity basketball team were finalists in state competition," said Shaconya Booze.

Although graduation is near, many are not quite ready to go. "I'm happy this moment has finally come, but I'm still not ready to leave," said Shaconya.

"I'm scared and then excited at the same time." "It's called Senioritis!" said Gene Robinson.

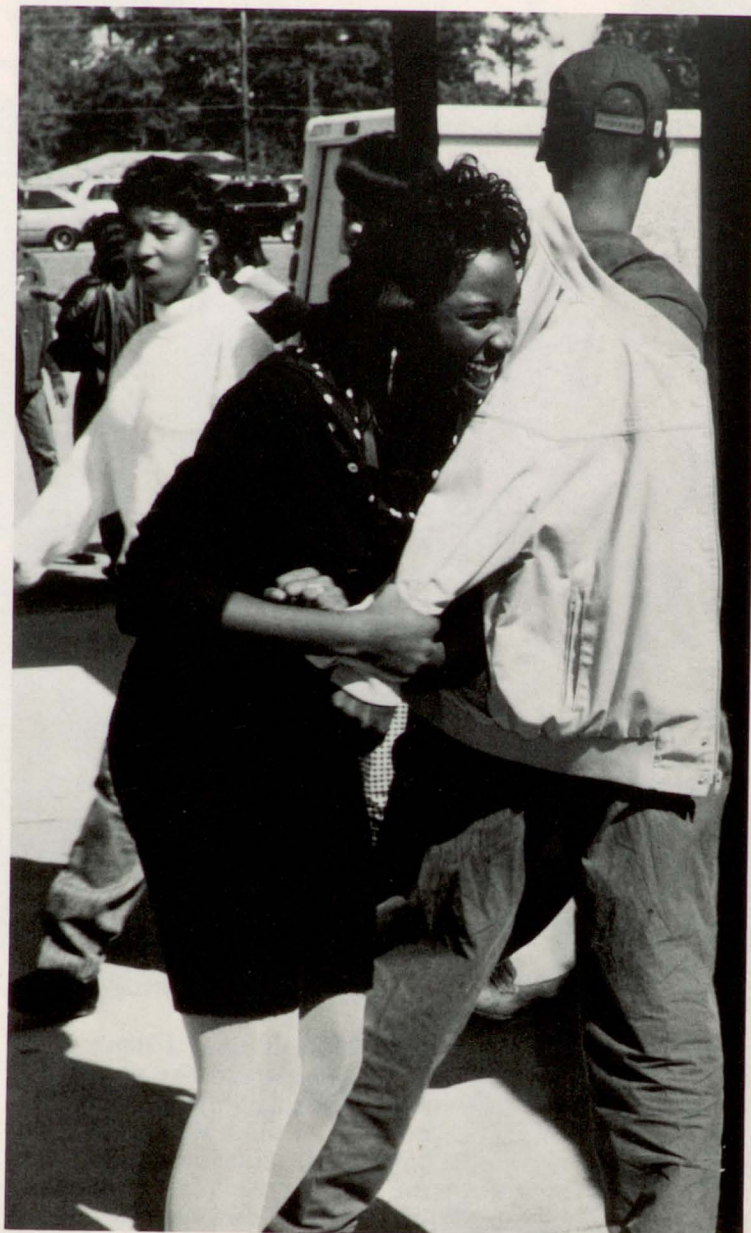

Tina Hazel adds, "I'm happy about graduation but I'm not sure about facing the world on my own." Wayne, on the other hand feels differently. "I've waited four long years for graduation and I can't wait!"

After graduation plans for seniors are bright.

"I plan on attending Macon College to major in Real Estate," said Gene.

"I want to attend Georgia College and major in Nursing," said Shaconya.

"I plan to attend the college of my choice and major in Mass Communications and later try my hand in Journalism," said Tina.

Seniors Wayne Anderson, Chauncey Hunt, and Alvin Clyde take a moment to pose during lunchbreak.

Senior Latrice Durham jokes around on lunchbreak.

CLASS OF 1990

Doing it like it ought to be done!

Officers elected in the spring of the junior year and supervision representatives elected shortly after the senior year took on the traditional tasks of leading the senior class. Plans were made for special senior activities through the year, such as Senior Week and a trip to the Bahamas. This group will also be in charge of plans for future reunions.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Danielle Hill, treasurer; Tanya Goolsby, vice-president; Robin Bell, president; Natalia Davis, secretary.

SENIORS and Proud Of It!

As an up coming senior, many juniors feel the excitement and joy of their final year of high school approaching and look forward to being treated with respect by the underclassmates.

When the school year has ended and the fall rolls around again bringing with it the pride of being a senior, many students of the newly formed senior class have the urge and nerves to become rather mischievous. Seniors usually started their mischievous pranks by leading the new freshman in wrong directions as they try to learn their way around the new environment.

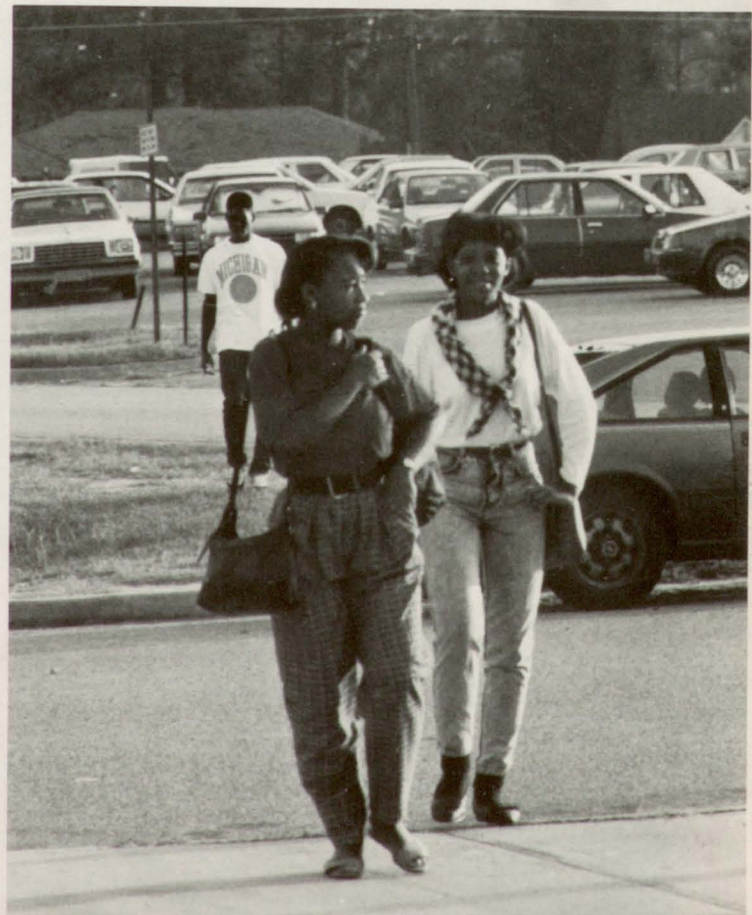

Lunchroom pranks are also commonly pulled by Seniors which usually involve the unscrewing of salt and pepper shakers, putting food in chairs before underclassmen are about to sit down, and the misplacing of book bags, making underclassmen frantic and late to class.

Most importantly, becoming a senior means being more responsible for ones own actions and not abusing senior privileges. The way seniors act during the present year determines whether senior privileges will be granted in the following years to come.

Seniors, Myrja Johnson and Greta Brantley "clown around" as cat woman Jeanette McCrorey, and monster man, Benji Edwards dress out for the day.

Valerie Bryant and Andrea Ford look forward to those final days of school.

Senior, Carlos Spry proudly shows off his class of 1990 jacket as classmates look on.

Senior, Robin Bell is thrilled about the new Jazzettes' uniform.

Larry Kellam and Chastity Taylor "trip out" during lunch.

Seniors Deandra Hazel and Nathan Lewis, show off their preferred choice when it comes to colleges.

Choosing the right college isn't easy, so students head to the counselors' office to check out the brochures, catalogs and other materials sent by colleges and universities from across the country.

Future Decisions

Well, your senior year has finally arrived. You've been preparing yourself three years for this glorious time. Throughout the year you chant, "no more school, no more books, no more teachers dirty looks". This is not true for all of us. Many may graduate only once in their lives, but others have the chance of continuing their education. It's a step from hills to mountains and from streams to rivers; but, before this takes place, choices must be made. The right school is the objective.

Choosing a college or university is a hard task. The key is to look for a school that satisfies not only your needs but also your pocket. Many services are provided to help upcoming seniors decide which college provides the best choices for them. Senior Sam Hart says, "basically what helps me choose a college is what it offers me academically in my chosen field of study and socially".

Whatever your choice may be, let it be the one that best fits your needs. Make the choice for yourself and no one else. And hopefully you'll make the RIGHT CHOICE!

Seniors, Glinda Harper and Myra Johnson style their personal choice when it comes to colleges.

Mrs. Standard, counselor, talks to senior Tanya Goolsby about that RIGHT college choice.

Being on Top

After completing eleven years of high school, the average high school student goes through a change---a sort of metamorphosis.

"These have been the longest years of my life" senior Shandrina Griffin declared. "It's like climbing a long ladder and finally getting to the top. But being a senior is definitely being on top."

All through those first eleven years, members of the class of 1990 have been picked on and laughed at by older classes that preceded them. But it's their turn, they are on top. So underclassmen you shouldn't get offended by the many tricks and jokes the seniors play; it's only a tradition that's been passed down from graduating class to graduating class. But don't worry! You'll get your chance to be on top, but for now, the class of '90 rules!

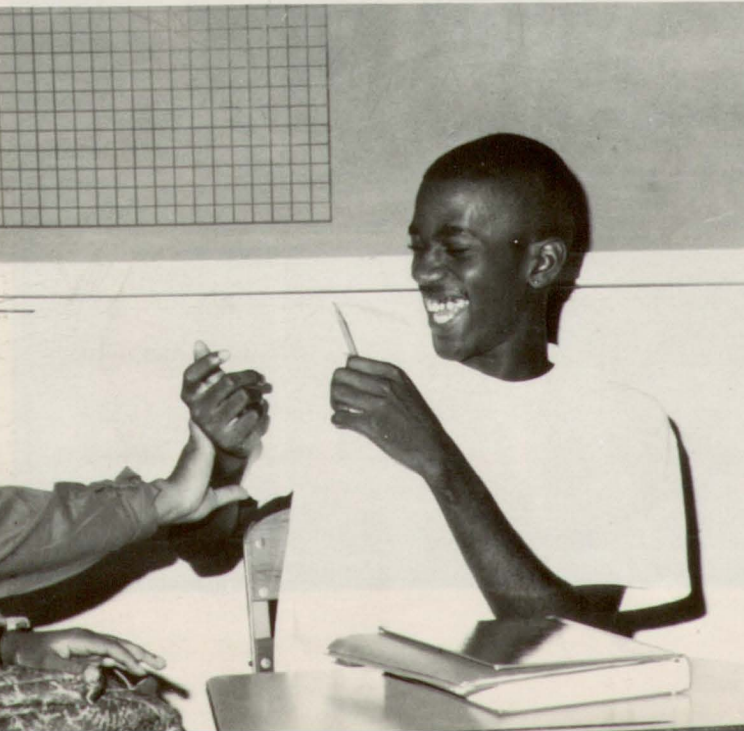

Senior Micheal Poole wonders what to do with this art object.

Valerie Bryant strives for perfection in her last year as a senior at Northeast.

Marqueta Lucas gives her money for senior color fee to Mrs. Fultz.

Marlon Fair gives thumbs-up for his senior year in high school.

SENIOR SUPERLATIVES

Fifteen Seniors Chosen By The Faculty

Fifteen seniors were chosen by the faculty as Senior Superlatives.

These seniors have already set their goals for the future.

Three seniors have chosen a career in the medicine field. ShaConya Booze plans to attend Georgia Southern in Statesboro and major in Nursing. Quandra Calhoun also plans to attend Georgia Southern and major in Pharmacy. Chasitivity Taylor plans to attend the University of Georgia in Athens and major in Dentistry.

Six seniors have chosen a career in the field of science. Tanya Goolsby plans to attend the University of Georgia in Athens and major in Biochemistry. Samuel Hart plans to attend the University of Georgia also and major in Political Science. Chauncey Hunt plans to attend Clemson University in South Carolina and major in Aeronautical Engineering. Donna Walker plans to attend Spelman College in Atlanta and major in Biology. Van Woodley plans to attend North Georgia in Dehlongia and major in Military Science. Nicky Zellner plans to go to the Air Force and major in Engineering.

Two seniors have chosen not only the same school, but also the same field of study. Matessa Goodrum and Tonette Robinson both plan to attend the University of Georgia and major in psychology.

Benjamin Edwards plans to attend Howard University in Washington D.C. and major in Pre-Law.

Shannon Stanton plans to attend Agnes Scott in Atlanta and major in English.

Nathan Lewis plans to attend Hampton University in Virginia and major in Business Administration.

Here is some advice from the experts to all Underclassmen:

"Strive to the upmost and always put God first in your life. And remember to keep a positive attitude."- ShaConya Booze .

"My advice to you is that you do the best that you can do to excel in all your school work and goals you have established for yourself. And whatever you do stay in school because education is the key that unlocks the doors of opportunity, desires, careers, and all that the future holds. Remember: Gratitude takes three forms: a feeling in the heart, an expression in words, and a giving in return." — Quandra Calhoun .

"A satellite is defined as something that can function alone. There are no satellites in this world and, in order to survive, we must all work together to the best of our ability. In doing this we must first show ourselves who we are and then show others what we are."- Benjamin Edwards .

"If you continue to keep a positive attitude, set goals and strive for something you believe in, then you can conquer any obstacle."-Matessa Goodrum .

"It feels thrilling to excel! Only if you open up your mind and try it you'll like it. So don't wait until you become a Senior to be active in your school or community. Start now and the reward will be much greater than you ever thought it would be."- Tanya Goolsby .

"Go as far as you can go, not as far as others think you can. Keep a straight head and a steady path, and you will go far."-Samuel Hart Jr. .

"Put your best into everything you do and you will always be rewarded. Remember that knowledge is the key to the door of life. And always stay true to yourself."-Chauncey Hunt .

"In order to be the best you can be you should never fall to the pressure of people who are trying to keep you down. Always remember hard work and dedication pay off in many ways later in life."- Larry Kellam .

"The person who succeeds is the person who is equally based; one should be socially, academically, and spiritually inclined."-Nathan Lewis .

"Let nothing stand in the way of your dreams; Your determination is what dreams are made of."- Tonette Robinson .

"Set your goals early in life, reach for the stars, and don't let anything or anybody get in your way."-Donna Walker .

"In your quest for a better life, be sure to overlook short cuts and try to stay on the straight and narrow, for, (you are what what you are and what you are, you are.)"-Van Woodley .

"Don't sit back and relax just because you are a Senior. It is not over until you receive your diploma. If there is something you want to do, do it because this is it, the year you will remember most."- Nicky Zellner.

WHO'S WHO COUPLES

The first class of the new decade chooses favorites.

* Who's Who are outstanding seniors chosen by fellow classmates. The criteria for this category are a 3.5 or better GPA and a teacher recommendation.

The Who's Who elections were held in early February. The nominees were chosen by seniors classmates.

Unlike last year, there were 15 Who's Who categories to choose from. This gave more seniors a chance to be chosen. A lot of seniors found this to be fun.

MOST POPULAR: Owen Williams and Chanda Gordon. MOST ADMIRER: Tonette Robinson and Nickey Zellner.

MOST TALENTED: Tina Hazel and Charles Spry. MOST ATHLETIC: Yolanda Chester and Jimmy Bowers

BEST CAR: Donna Walker owns a BMW and Dexter McSwain owns a Fiero.

PRETTIEST SMILE: Natalia Davis and Romenski Williams.

New Administration ask students

JUST DO THE RIGHT THING

Before the 1989-90 school year began, there were rumors floating about the Northeast community that there would be new administrators joining the Northeast staff that would help Northeast maintain and strengthen its goal for greater excellence.

Mr. David Dillard, a Northeast graduate, became our new complex principal. "I am real impressed with the quality of teachers, students, and staff here at Northeast," Dillard said. His now famous words "Do the Right Thing" have set the standard for his first year.

Mrs. Eleanor Sikes, the new Lasseter building principal, returned to Northeast after a term as associate principal at Southwest. "I would like to let the public know what a great school we have here at Northeast," said Sikes. "The entire school body is great."

Mrs. Sherry Mosely, a former English teacher, was named the new associate principal for instruction. "Northeast has a good learning environment, and is preparing the students with the everyday skills that are needed in society today," said Mosely. "I am glad to be here at Northeast, and I do not plan on leaving anytime soon."

Mrs. Doris Terry, named building principal of Mark Smith later in the year, expressed how proud she was of the students. "This is a group of very interesting young men and ladies here at Northeast," said Terry. "I plan to be the PR (public relations) woman for Northeast. I plan to let everybody in Macon and middle Georgia know about the quality and the talents of the students," added Terry.

Below: Mr. Dillard takes care of the paper work — a part of his responsibility as principal.

Mrs. Landrum, the art teacher, tries hard to explain the essence of art.

Mrs. Mosely and Mrs. Grynkeiwich take a quick minute to talk before lunchbreak is over.

FEATURE TEACHERS

Northeast is not only a haven of superior learning but also one for unique teachers. Through the years Northeast has instituted unique ways for boosting educational interest within the student body. These unique teachers are just one of the reasons why Northeast High School is number one.

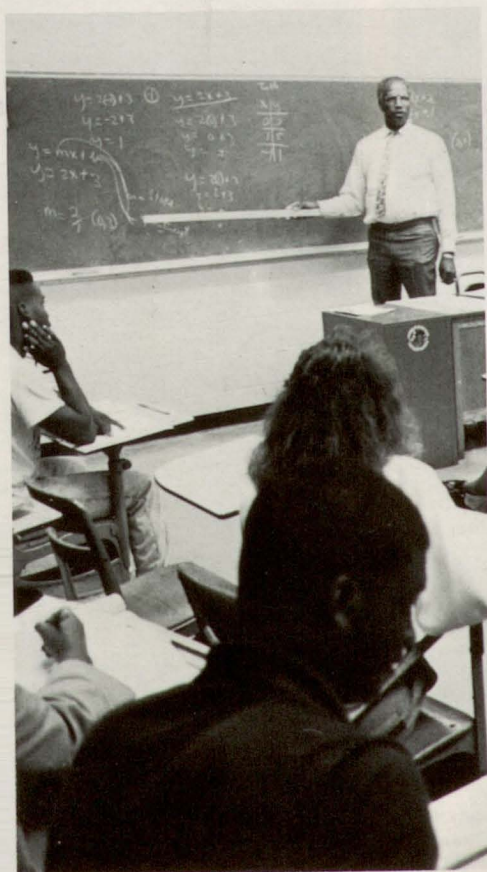

Feature has been defined as giving particular attention or publicity; made prominent. The Vahalla Staff has chosen three teachers for this section: Mr. Derzi, Mrs. Echols, and Mr. Wright.

Mr. Derzi, has been teaching for seven years. He is from Beirut, Lebanon and a graduate of Florida State University. He feels honored that he was chosen as a featured teacher and gave some word of wisdom for others. "Enthusiasm is contagious; be enthusiastic and never give up on the students."

Mrs. Echols has been teaching students for nineteen years. Her teaching career started by accident. She wanted to be a social worker! After teaching students in headstart and later in high school she realized she enjoyed teaching older kids better.

Teaching for 33 years, everyone knows it would be wrong not to know Mr. Wright! Mr. Wright earned two degrees from Mercer University; B.A. and Masters in Education. His special techniques are the lecture system and requiring students to keep a graduation requirement card on which a record of required work for graduation is kept. Mr. Wright enjoys daily contact with students. "I like to see the light come on in the learning process. In essence I like to see my former students become a finished product."

Mr. John Simmons teaches the slope-intercept method to his Algebra II students.

Mr. Nzegwa works with two students in shop.

Community

The Heart of Georgia is commonly known as Macon. Macon is a city of old history and of new history. Everyday, Macon comes forth with a new stride for excellence.

The Cherry Blossom festival is Macon's most celebrated event. This year several students from Northeast participated in the Miss Cherry Blossom Pageant.

Northeast is also striving for excellence and as the students know "We are doing the right thing."

Frank Malloy visits the Northeast student body on the Great American Smoke Out Day to tell us of the dangers of smoking.

Coleman Hill makes the perfect spot for a beautiful view of Macon.

Community Involvement

Whether we are out selling cookies with Girl Scouts, or meeting with City Council to express our opinions as a member of the Macon City Junior Council, we have organizations that provide valuable services to the community.

Teen Partners provide a liason between the public and private schools, TAPS speaks out against pregnancy, and our Teen writers express their views on current school issues in the Macon Telegraph. With our combined efforts, we do make a differences.

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES

THE GREAT SECRET OF SUCCESS IN LIFE IS FOR A MAN TO BE READY WHEN HIS OPPORTUNITY COMES. THE PATH WE CHOOSE TO TREAD HELPS DETERMINE OUR SUCCESS IN YEARS THAT LIE AHEAD, SO MAY YOU USE YOUR KNOWLEDGE WISELY AND LEARN NEW THINGS EVERY DAY THEN YOU CAN CONQUER ANY OBSTACLES YOU MEET ALONG LIFE'S WAY.

LOVE,
MOTHER

Dexter McSwain

To The Graduating Class of 1990

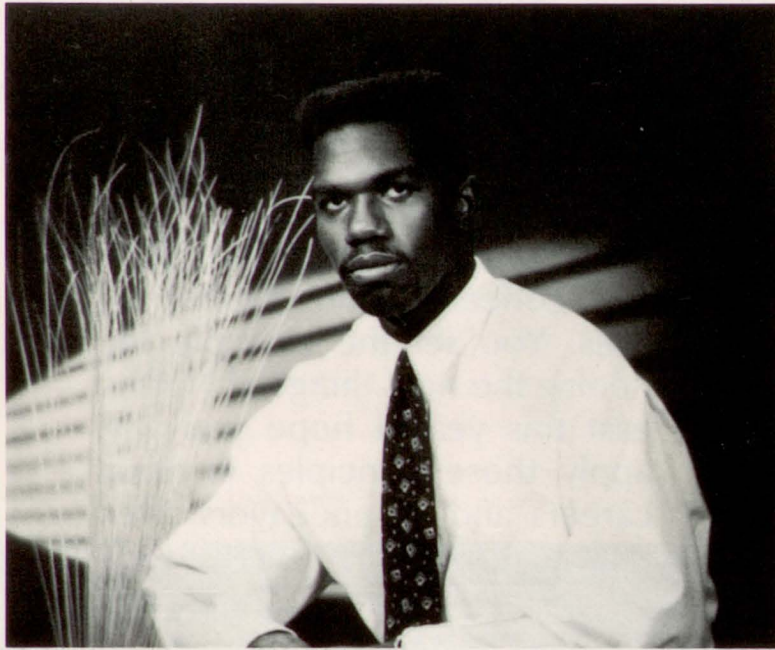

This was my first year as administrator at Northeast and the support from the Senior Class has made it a good year.

I have appreciated your spirit and concern about school issues. You set the example for "doing the right thing" at Northeast this year. I hope you will apply those principles to your careers and all endeavors after high school.

I wish you the best!

Sincerely,
David L. Dillard

Congratulations Larry

Larry Kellam

May God bless you and keep you as you strive to reach your goals. You are our shining star.

Love from all of us,
The Mears Family

Grandparents, Dad, Aunt Mary, Aunt Anne, Aunt Sarah, Uncle Bernard, Uncle William, Nancy, and Darian.

Donna Gail,

November 15, 1972 was a very special day. It was a day that brought us you! If we tried with all our might, we could not have greater delight!

Keep striving, keep caring, keep sharing!

You are our dream come true,

We Love You
Mom and Dad

We're so happy the Lord gave us the opportunity to be your parents
Because you are not only beautiful on the outside but on the inside, too.

Mom and Dad

Benjamin,

In some quarters the values by which we have tried to live and raise you are now considered old fashioned. But that does not bother us because we try not to let what others think influence the way we live or what we believe. Besides, some things never go out of style — and we are convinced that that is true of our values, which are summed up in the simply advice an old judge gave to a young lawyer at the beginning of his legal career:

“Son, always try to do the right thing.”

That advice has served us well and if you adhere to it, it will stand you in good stead too. Our love and support always.

With love,

Your parents.

Rev. & Mrs. Lonzy Edwards

Doing the RIGHT Thing

Northeast High School. . . Over the years, these three words have had a variety of meanings to the students, teachers, and faculty who call her home.

To the teachers, it has meant high standards. Mrs. Shirley Macklin was named Bibb County teacher of the year. Mr. William Parry was recognized for his SRCS Program — the only system of its kind in Georgia. Mrs. Gail Lewis, Mrs. Judy Fultz and a number of other teachers were named Who's Who Among America Teachers. And to all the other teachers, it has meant helping produce America's future.

To the new administration, it has meant new challenges. Lead by Mr. Dillard, the new complex principal, Mr. Grant, Mrs. Mosley, Ms. Sikes, and Mrs. Terry took on the responsibility of 1,150 of the best students in Macon.

From the first class to ever walk her halls in 1971 to the students of the year 2015, Northeast High School will always be the right school, the school that's DOING THE RIGHT THING!

Senior Adrian Hill and Mr. Lewis Wright, an English teacher, share a laugh over a creative answer.

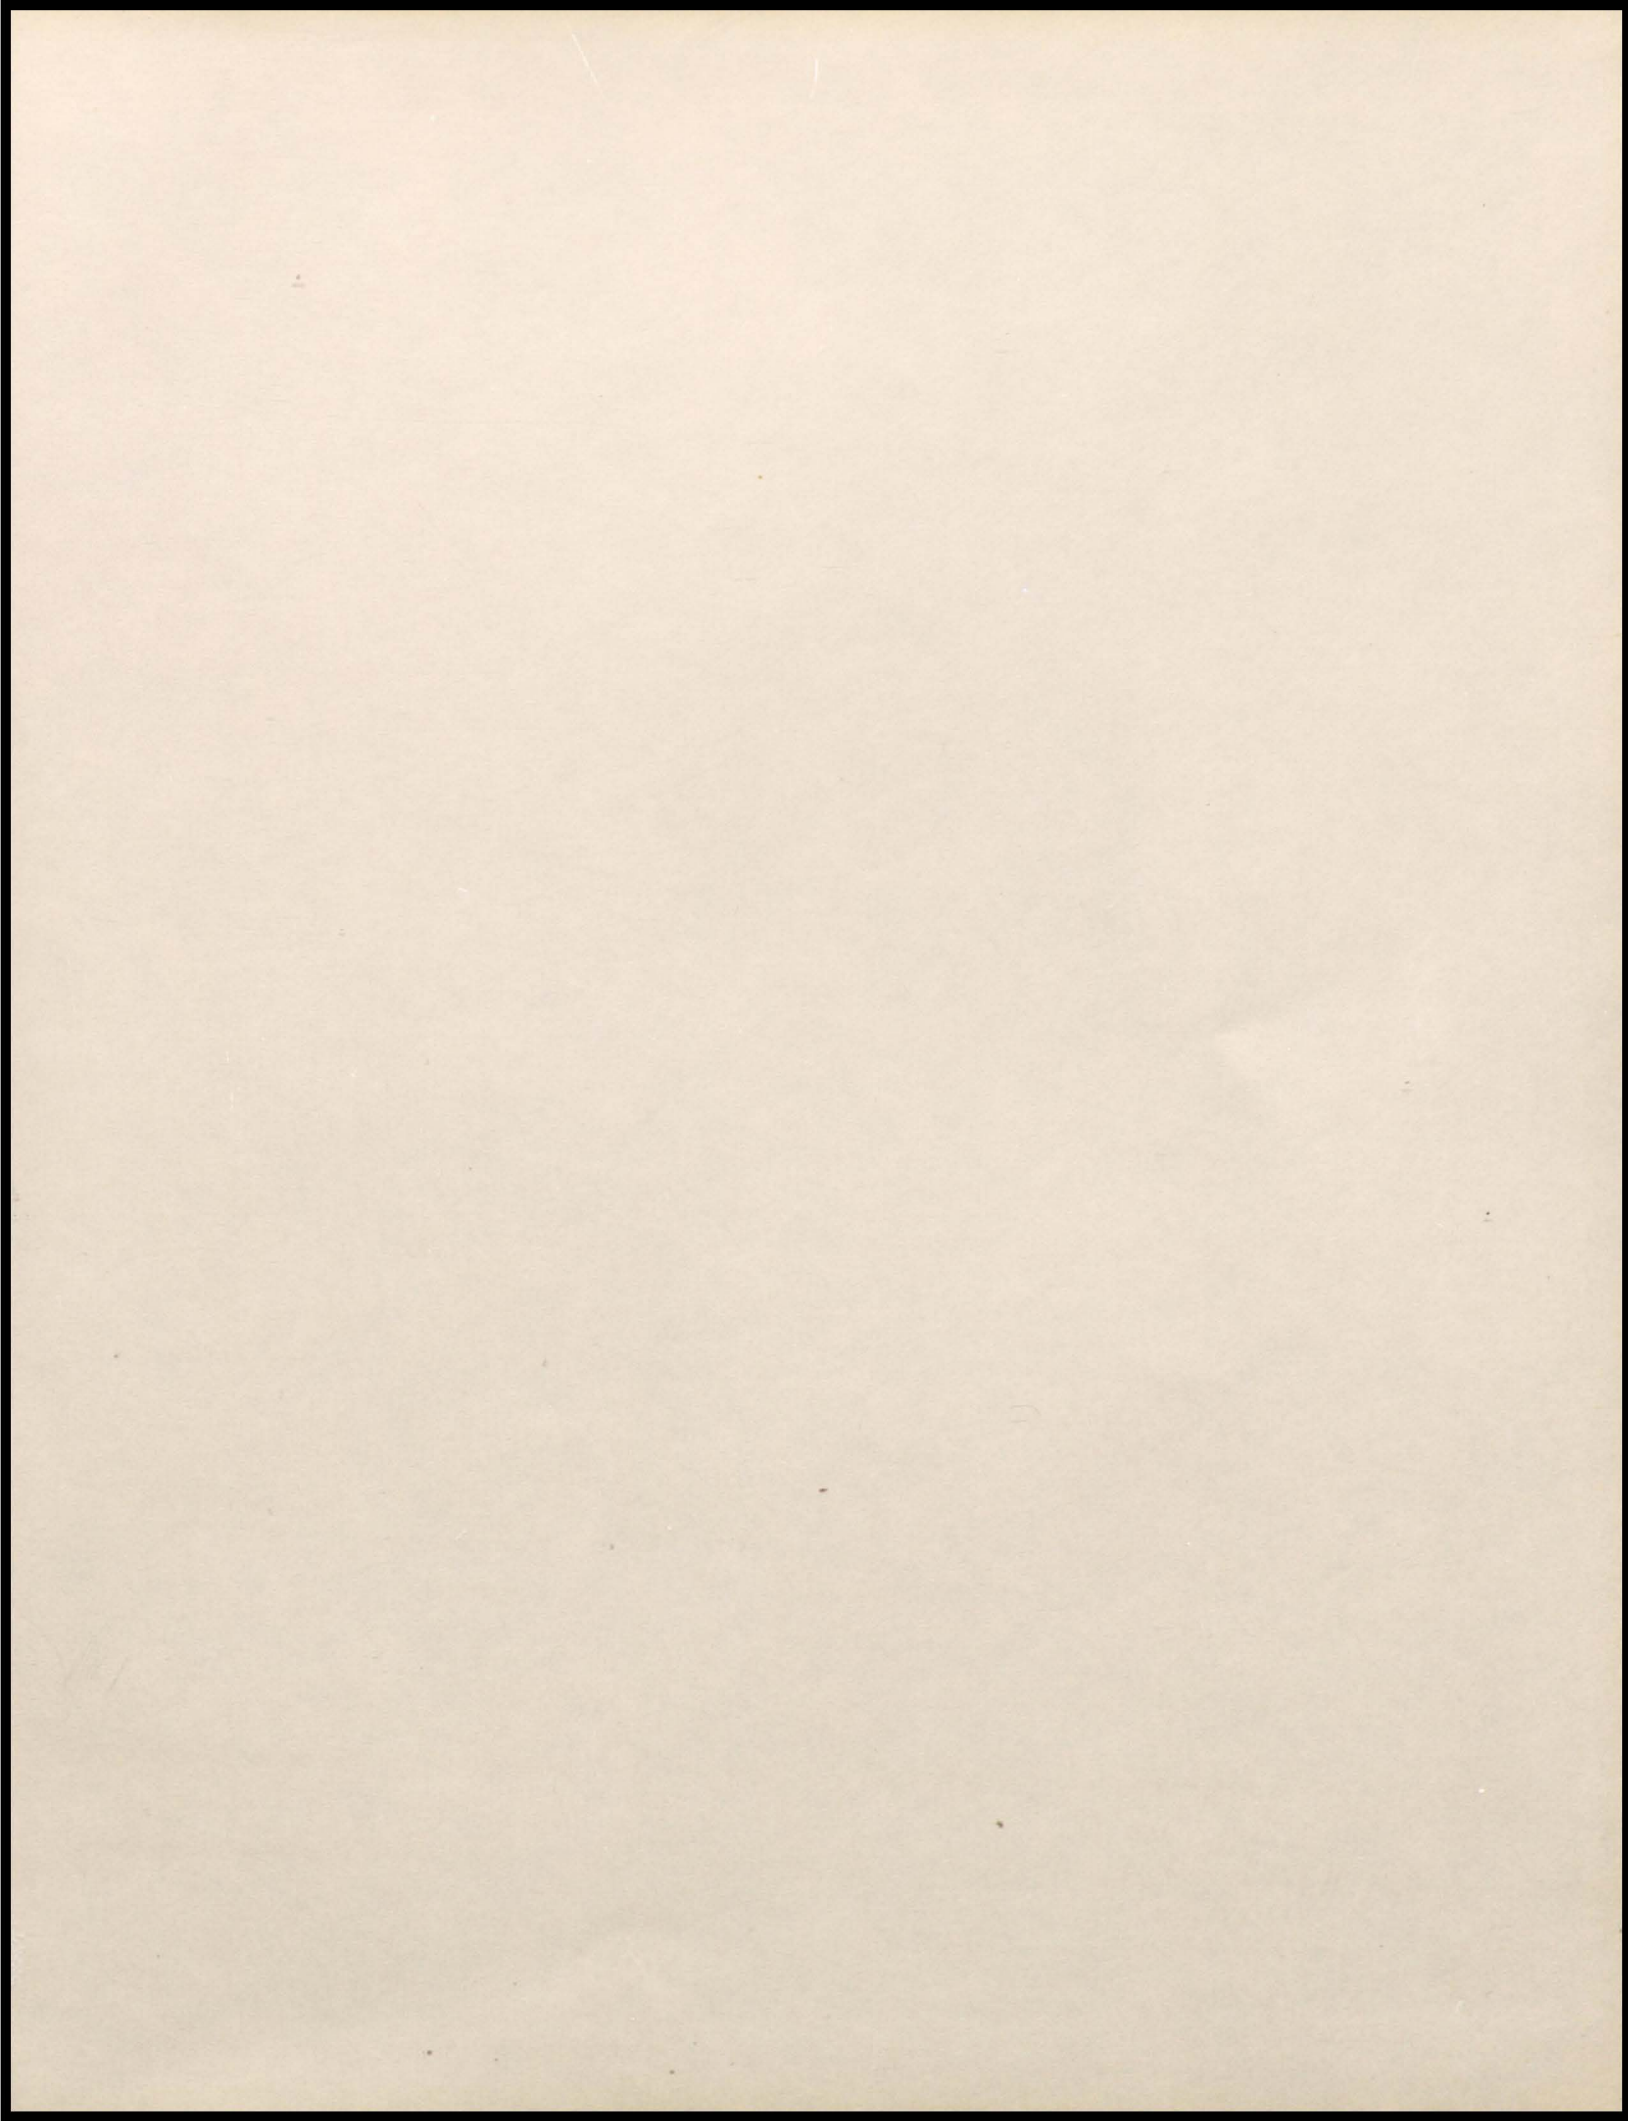

Students check Math problems in Mr. Johnson's 4th period class.

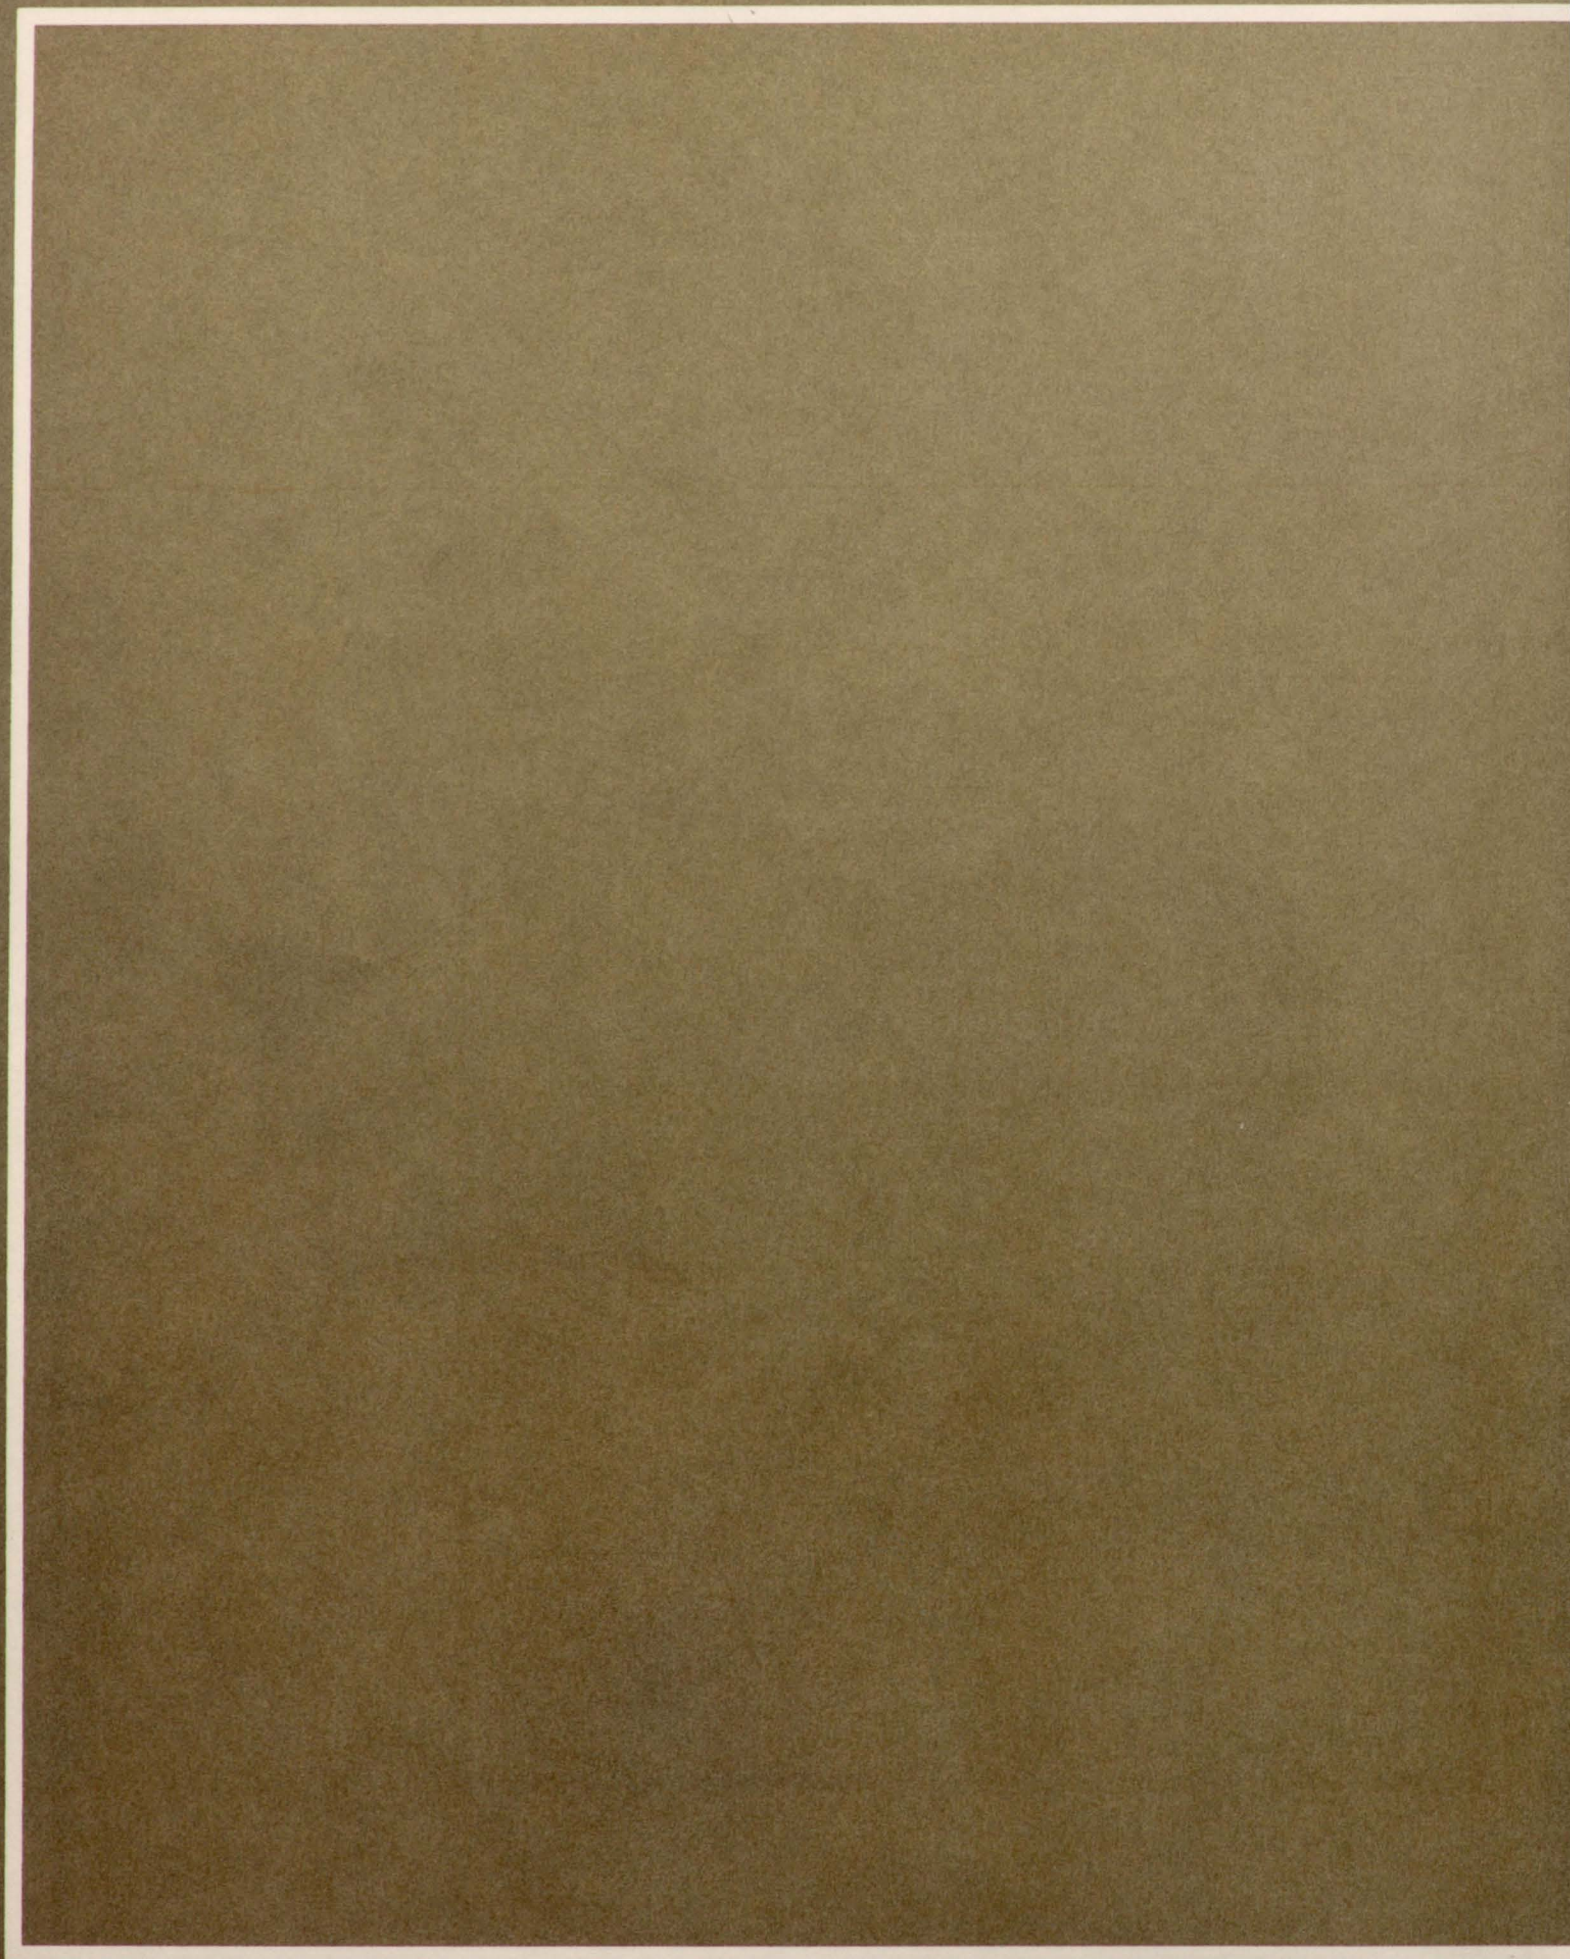

Seniors Adrian Hill, Gene Robinson and Robin Bell.
